TEMPORARILY, AT LEAST, THEY STOP THE THREATENED EFFORT AGAINST LUBLIN RAILWAY, WHICH, IF CAPTURED, WOULD BE SERIOUS BLOW.

POSSIBILITY THAT PRESIDENT WILL NOT ANSWER TENTATIVE SUGGESTIONS SENT THROUGH AMBASSADOR GERARD—SOME THINK SHOULD TAKE STAND.

WARSAW IS SAFE FOR TIME BELIEVE VIEWS UNACCEPTABLE

Big Battle Has But Commenced, but the Russians with Many Reserves Have the Advantage—Have Excellent Communication to Their Forces in the Rear.

Officials at Washington Hold That American Government's Attitude Was Set Forth Plainly in Last Note and That There Should Be No Compromise from Stand Taken.

London, July 7.—By the employment of strong reinforcements to the Russians they have temporarily at least, checked the Austro-German advance toward the Lublin railway, which, if successful, would seriously imperil Warsaw. The Russians yesterday claimed to have inflicted a serious defeat on the Austro-German army in the region of Krasnik, south of that railway, while the Austrians tonight state that the "battle was invigorated by the participation of strong Russian reserves."

So far as communications are concerned the Russians now have the advantage of positions as they have a splendid system of railways behind them on which they can quickly move troops and guns to the threatened areas. This battle, one of many since the Austro-Germans commenced their drive through Galicia, has only just commenced, but, according to dispatches received in Geneva from Austrian sources, the Russians have thus far had the best of it, and since Monday have inflicted very heavy losses on the invaders. These dispatches state that thousands of wounded are continually arriving in Lemberg, Przemyśl and Jaroslau.

The much heralded German onslaught in the west thus far has been confined to the Moselle region where the army of the German crown prince is on the offensive and making efforts to regain the ground which it lost to the French in April, when the latter attempted to force the withdrawal of what is known as the St. Mihiel wedge.

German forces have won some trenching up of the wedge but at other points according to French accounts, the Germans have been repulsed with heavy losses. The fighting here appears to be desultory despite reports from Holland of the arrival of large German reinforcements for another effort to reach Calais.

The Gallipoli peninsula again has been the scene of heavy fighting, the Turks on Sunday having made their third attempt within a week to regain the ground which the allies had won from them in their last attack. Sunday's offensive, like those which preceded, resulted according to British and French reports, issued tonight, in the complete discomfiture of the Turks, who are said to have suffered again heavily.

Anna polis Standard Lowered.
Anna polis, Md., July 7.—The standard of scholarship in mathematics at the Naval academy has been greatly lowered in recent years, according to testimony today by Prof. H. F. Smith, head of the mathematics department before the court of inquiry which is investigating irregularities in examinations.

A president of the United States in one instance and a secretary of the navy in another had lowered the passing mark in a certain examination to prevent failure of midshipmen who could not reach requirements. That a midshipman considered himself safe if he obtained as good a mark as a classmate who was supposed to have so much influence that he would not be dropped was the further statement of Professor Smith.

SUMMARY OF WAR

With their eyes upon Trieste, the Italians have during the last few days been engaged in a series of desperate actions along the Isonzo front.

Of these little has been recorded officially, but dispatches of correspondents say the plateau of Dobrovo, which is of great strategic value with respect to an advance on Trieste, has been the scene of one of the heaviest bombardments of the entire campaign and of brilliant assaults by the Italians and Italians fell in great numbers. One account reports one-fourth of the Italian army was engaged in the operations against Gorizia, but notwithstanding the terrific hail of shells and the heavy attacks of the Italian infantry, the Austrians repelled the invaders. The king of Italy and Premier Salandra are said to have witnessed the battle.

On the Gallipoli peninsula, the general activity of the Turks in their efforts to "drive the French and British allies into the sea" was still in evidence on July 4, the period covered by the latest reports received from General Sir Ian Hamilton. Infantry attacks were preceded by several bomb-

Washington, July 7.—Upon President Wilson tonight rests the decision as to what reply if any, shall be sent to Ambassador Gerard's message, outlining the tentative draft of a note submitted to him informally by the German foreign office as a proposed answer to the American communication of June 9, concerning submarine warfare.

Secretary Lansing and other advisers of the president have transmitted to him at Cornish, N. H., their views on the policy they believe ought to be pursued. It was officially stated tonight that no word had been received as to the president's position. It was intimate, too, that Mr. Wilson might not be ready to act until tomorrow or Friday, owing to the delicate questions involved.

During the day Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, tendered his congratulations to Mr. Lansing on his elevation to the secretaryship of state and asked informally concerning the latest phase of the negotiations.

The secretary outlined to Count von Bernstorff what had been transmitted to Ambassador Gerard but gave no indication as to the course the United States would follow. Mr. Bernstorff said he had no advice of his own.

Answer Not Necessary.
Bernstorff learned that Ambassador Gerard's message was not of a character which would necessarily require an answer. There is little doubt, in official quarters that the German proposals in their present form would be unacceptable.

The situation is perplexing because high officials are reluctant to engage in an informal discussion of questions which they hold were clearly stated in the American note. At the same time they are anxious that Germany may have no misconception as to what the United States would or not accept.

Although officials were generally reticent, it was said, the ambassador's message did not make clear whether the German government had asked him to obtain the views of the United States on the tentative draft, or whether in showing him a copy the implication was that the American government could, if it chose, comment on it before the note was completed.

In the circumstances, it is entirely possible for the Washington government to maintain silence with respect to the ambassador's inquiry.

Some of the president's advisers think advantage should be taken of the opportunity to reiterate firmly that the United States, having stated its position on the law and the facts, can make no concessions. While the optimism which has prevailed in official quarters for some time as a result of Ambassador Gerard's early messages, has to some extent been dissipated by the unsatisfactory character of some of the proposals made in the tentative draft, the situation still was regarded among well-informed officials as susceptible of a friendly settlement.

Expect Death of Quigley Momentarily

Rochester, N. Y., July 7.—Physicians at the bedside of Archbishop Quigley of Chicago said tonight that there had been no material change in the prelate's condition. Physicians announced they expected his death momentarily.

The campaign in Belgium and France has been confined largely to artillery actions. One strong offensive movement by the Germans in the forest of Apremont was stopped by the French, who report the Germans made no new gains.

The Russian forces which had been retreating steadily before the Austro-Germans are now holding their ground with the aid of strong reinforcements and in the battle which is raging near Krasnik they have inflicted heavy losses on their adversaries.

Germ Proof Garment Worn By Students and Physicians

GOING TO WARD OFF TYPHUS

When the Greek steamer Themistocles sailed from New York she had on board twenty-five Columbia university students, bound for Nish on a Serbian relief mission and thirty-five physicians from different parts of the country who make up a Red Cross expedition. These doctors are taking with them a new costume which has been invented to meet the special requirements of their work by Dr. William Clark and Dr. F. T. Baren of the College of Physicians and Surgeons. The particular feature of the costume is that it is made from top to toe in one piece, which includes a kind of hood for the head furnished with mica covered eye holes. The garment is to protect the physicians from insects which carry typhus germs. As a further precaution against the typhus germs, the physicians will sleep in cots suspended by ropes covered with a tar preparation. The physicians will also wear underclothes of silk, which will be washed in gasoline each night to guard against infection. The accompanying photograph shows a scene on the deck of the ship just before she sailed from New York.

TORNADO SWEEPS TWO MISSOURI COUNTIES

DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED AT HALF MILLION—SWEEPS TRAIN FROM TRACK.

Lives Are Lost—St. Charles Sustains Quarter Million Property Loss.

St. Louis, July 7.—A tornado and cloudburst which swept St. Louis and St. Charles counties late today, caused damage which may aggregate half a million dollars. Isolated several towns, blew half a passenger train clear off the railroad right of way, and deluged parts of this territory with four inches of rain in a half an hour.

Five persons are believed to have been killed during the storm. A man and child who entered the Borromeo church at St. Charles just before it was demolished, had not been accounted for at midnight. Mrs. Thomas Slattery and her two children were killed when their home at Darlene was wrecked. Wentzville and Gilmore each reported one man killed.

Early reports said the village of St. Peters had been destroyed and many persons killed, but an automobile party which rushed to St. Peters returned to St. Charles late tonight, and said that while every house in the town had been badly damaged and many persons killed and injured, the town was not destroyed. The town, however, was almost buried under stacks of wheat which had been carried from neighboring fields by the wind and water.

St. Charles sustained a damage estimated at $250,000. Instruments there registered a wind velocity of eighty miles an hour. The St. Charles Borromeo church, recently erected at a cost of $100,000, was razed, the roof and walls of the second Baptist church were blown away as were the roof and south wall of the St. Joseph hospital. The Sacred Heart convent was badly damaged and the Shrine of Madame Ducheane, founder of the American branch of the order was crushed to the ground, under which her body lies. More than fifty residences were partly wrecked.

The Wabash bridge over Dardanne creek, between O'Fallon and St. Peters, was demolished by the double attack of wind and water and westbound traffic was interrupted.

Between Gilmore and Wentzville, the train struck Wabash passenger train No. 9, St. Louis to Kansas City, and hurled the mail, combination chair and dining cars off the track. No one was hurt seriously.

Loss of Life Probable.
Chicago, July 7.—Tornadoes and cloudbursts sweeping eastward from the Missouri river valley caused heavy damage and possible loss of life today in Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Tornadoes swept districts northwest of St. Louis, blowing part of a Wabash railroad train from the track and devastating St. Charles, Mo. The wind at St. Charles blew eighty miles an hour.

Similar storms were reported to have struck St. Peters, Mo., and Lawrenceville, Ill., the latter place being a few miles west of Vincennes, Ind. First reports said two persons were killed at Lawrenceville.

Exceptionally heavy rains were reported from all sections of the affected territory, especially life took in St. Charles, Cincinnati, Ohio. At the former town merchandise stocks were damaged when water poured into basements and rose in some cases to the street levels. Cincinnati was cut off from wire communication for hours.

National Prohibition By 1920 Prediction Anti-Saloon League

Atlantic City, N. J., July 7.—At today's sessions of the convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America predictions were made that national prohibition would be achieved by 1920 if the sentiment for a saloonless nation continues to grow as in the last years. Forty state superintendents of the Anti-Saloon league, representing that many states and the District of Columbia, addressed two meetings. Governor Foss of Massachusetts told the delegates national prohibition was the only remedy to prevent industrial decay.

The national board of directors adopted resolutions urging congress to submit the proposed amendment to the federal constitution to the people of all the states so they may determine whether they want national prohibition.

William H. Anderson, superintendent of the league in New York, charged that attempts have been made to have the new constitution now in process of construction so framed as to protect the liquor interests. He attacked William H. Barnes for his attitude on the liquor question and said the only difference between Tammany Hall and the republican party was that Tammany was for the liquor interest and did not care who knew it, while the republicans were for the same interests, but did not want anybody to know it.

Lieut. General Nelson A. Miles presided at one of the night meetings and Gifford Pinchot was in charge of another. Each made a brief speech in support of national prohibition.

CASE AGAINST HUERTA MAY BE ABANDONED

IT IS BELIEVED THE CONSPIRACY CHARGES AGAINST EX-PRESIDENT WILL BE WITHDRAWN.

Will Agree to Leave the Mexican Border and Go Further North.

Washington, July 7.—It was believed here tonight that the case against General Huerta charged with conspiracy to violate American neutrality by inciting a new Mexican revolution, might be abandoned. Huerta is due to appear next week before a commissioner of the United States for a hearing. Although officials are reticent, reports are current that there will be no prosecution and that Huerta will be allowed to leave the Mexican border and take up his residence somewhere in the northern part of the United States, to interfere no more in Mexican politics.

It was pointed out tonight in official quarters that such a settlement would accomplish the chief end desired by the government—prevention of Huerta's return to Mexico, complicating the situation there.

Several messages were exchanged today between the department of justice and Federal Attorney Camp at El Paso, Mr. Camp, it is understood, is thoroughly familiar with conditions on the border and it is believed it was his suggestion that the case be disposed of without further legal proceedings.

Taggart Declares He is Persecuted and Demands a Trial

Indianapolis, July 7.—"This whole business is a persecution and not a prosecution, and I demand an immediate trial," said Thomas Taggart, democratic national committee chairman from Indiana, after 130 of the 131 men charged with frauds in the 1914 registration primary and election had pleaded guilty in criminal court.

"I never had anything to do with any of the men who pleaded guilty today. I do not know these men. It seems funny to me they should be permitted to go on their own recognizance if they are guilty. I don't know what I have been indicted for although I have made every effort to find out."

Mayor Joseph E. Bell also indicted issued a statement saying, "The pleading guilty of the seven men today is an attempt to connect us with men with whom we have never had any dealings."

Those who pleaded guilty are: John W. Lee, Robert W. Board, Charles Gibbs, Earl Clifford, Nelson Hughes, Edward O'Leary and Bernard Rickelman.

Rickelman, Lee, Board and Gibbs were released on their own recognizance. Hughes was held on a charge of forgery. O'Leary was ordered into the custody of the sheriff. Clifford is serving time in the workhouse.

Three others have been given additional time to study the indictment before pleading.

After the motion for a change of venue to another judge was filed, Judge Collins fixed next Friday as the date when attorneys for the state and defense will select a judge to try the case.

Mexican Raiders Cross Bordered.

Brownsville, Tex., July 7.—The band of Mexicans who raided north Cameron county, Texas, early this week, have succeeded in crossing into Mexico, in the opinion of the sheriff here. Posses, however, still are searching for the gang.

WASHINGTON ANXIOUS NO BOMBS PLACED OVER THE CONDITIONS ON BOARD THE SHIP IN MEXICAN CAPITAL SAXONIA BY HOLT

NEWS OF THE RESULT OF CARRANZA'S LATEST ATTEMPT TO DRIVE ZAPATA GARRISON OUT OF CITY IS AWAITED WITH KEENEST SUSPENSE.

FEARS FOR SAFETY OF CUNARD LINERS NOW IN MID-OCEAN RELIEVED BY WIRELESS MESSAGE FROM CAPTAIN—WIFE THANKS GOD AT NEWS.

FEAR FOR FOREIGN COLONY IS IDENTIFIED AS MUENTER

Tension Somewhat Relieved By Receipt of Dispatch from Vera Cruz Stating That Attempts to Quit City Will Be Facilitated by the Besieging Forces.

Believed He Committed Suicide Because of Fear the Discovery Would Be Made That He Was Wife Murderer—Inquest to Be Held Today. Burial in New York.

Washington, July 7.—News of the result of Carranza's latest attempt to drive the Zapata garrison out of Mexico City was awaited with anxiety tonight by officials of the American government. No word from the fighting has come since Vera Cruz announced two days ago that the Carranza army under General Gonzalez, reinforced after its repulse on June 25, had renewed its attack with the expectation of an easy victory.

Apprehension felt on account of the foreign colony in the capital was somewhat relieved by the receipt today of a dispatch at the state department from Vera Cruz stating that the Carranza forces intended to facilitate attempts of foreigners to quit the city and to transmit their messages to the outside world. The Carranza officials were confident of taking Mexico City in a short time.

Measures for the relief of non-combatants in the republic were continued today as far as conditions permitted. Consul General Hanna at Monterey reported to the Red Cross that he was feeding 16,000 persons from American relief supplies. Officials of the Chinese legation in Washington arranged with the state department and the Red Cross for the care of destitute Chinese in Mexico. A check for $5,200 was tendered, but it will not be accepted for the present.

Carranza's goal in Washington remained tonight that in those sections over which Carranza had control there was no famine danger.

The Villa agency here today declared Villa forces had offered to aid in the evacuation of the city from the disturbed districts. Miss Mabel Boardman of the Red Cross asserted, however, there had been lack of co-operation by both Carranza and Villa of such isolated places as Monterey and Monclova. She added that where co-operation was not forthcoming the Red Cross for the time being could take no action.

Additional dispatches to the state department were outlined in this summary: "A dispatch dated July 5, from San Luis Potosi, states that Guanajuato has been occupied by Villa troops. It is stated this will permit the exit of Americans there by way of Aguas Calientes. The San Luis Potosi district is quiet. It is reported the Villa forces also have recovered the towns of Cuernavaca and Matamoros. Train service between Laredo and Monterey was suspended on July 6. A battle has been in progress for about six days in the vicinity of Paredon.

The Carranza agency announced the Villa army had been "completely overthrown" by the Carranza forces at Villa Garcia. Villa forces were said to have suffered a loss of 600 killed and wounded. The agency added that a dispatch from Paredon also resulted in a Carranza success.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Will Be Brought Back to New York

New York, July 7.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will be brought back here, probably on Friday, on a body attachment and required to appear before a supreme court justice and explain why she failed to obey a subpoena directing her to testify in the proceedings yesterday relative to the sanity of her husband, Harry K. Thaw. Mrs. Thaw came here yesterday from her summer home in the Adirondacks, but returned, stating she was too ill to testify and that in any event she did not intend to testify against her husband.

Sheriff Griffenhagen with two deputies left tonight for Mrs. Thaw's camp with the body attachment. Susan Merrill occupied the witness stand today and testified relative to Thaw's conduct while he occupied a portion of her rooming house near Central park.

Frank P. Walsh Defends His Criticism of Texas

St. Louis, July 7.—Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the Federal industrial relations commission, in an address here today, held himself personally responsible for all the criticism which has been directed against the commission. He justified the actions which brought criticism by the declaration, "My duty was to investigate the truth, not to smother it, and I did my duty."

Mr. Walsh told of the investigation into the farm tenant problem in Texas, conducted by the faculty of the University of Texas. Their report, he said, showed that a laborer and his entire family, by toiling from sunrise to sunset could earn no more than $400 a year. Although this report was conclusive, the important newspapers of Texas, with one or two exceptions, refused to publish it, he said.

He declared Texas has 100,000,000 acres of tillable land which is not thrown open to cultivation.

Concerning their attacks on the commission, Mr. Walsh said adverse criticism did not really appear until the commission reached New York. The commission discovered that 10 per cent of the labor employed in Texas industries was controlled on Manhattan Island. The commission therefore expected to find there the best possible laboratory for its work.

"Whether these employers took much thought of human machinery, they did of cost reports and inanimate machinery. It was there that I

conclusive, the important newspapers

that the police were endeavoring to prove that her husband was Erich Muentner, former Harvard professor, wanted for wife murder in 1904, she collapsed and it was several hours before physicians were able to restore her to consciousness.

The shock was the most terrible to her of any. This morning she received the news of her husband's suicide calmly and declared he was better off. Then she received the letter from Holt in which he told of having placed dynamite on the two Cunard steamers. She turned her face upward and offered prayer for the innocent people of the ships and expressed the hope that no harm would befall them.

She expressed a desire to go to New York City and see the dead body of her husband. She may leave within a few days. It was announced, however, that the funeral of Holt will be held in New York.

Overcome in his stout loyalty to his dead son-in-law by the overwhelming evidence furnished from almost every city interested, that Frank Holt and Erich Muentner, alleged wife murderer, were one person, Dr. O. F. Sensabaugh for the first time discussed this phase of the maze which has surrounded Frank Holt's life and career as a militant advocate of peace.

"If Holt was Muentner," said Dr. Sensabaugh, "I believe that he was like-wise a dual personality. When he was Frank Holt he did not know that he was Muentner, and his so-called 'hiding of his past' was nothing more than ignorance of it."

"While with us Holt was a man of broad understanding, and unerring truthfulness. He was known at Cornell as the mentor of all the students, and was their counsellor in all points of concerted action on which they had doubts. He had nothing to hide from us, I am sure."

"I have read and know it to be a fact well grounded on scientific research, that a man may have had a previous existence of which he knows nothing, if he ever suffered a period of insanity such as attributed to Muentner at one time. If the two lives are one, then it is my belief that such is the case."

"Of one thing I am sure. There was no element of moral turpitude in Holt's actions, and his breakdown at the last was purely insanity."

Hundreds of letters and many telegrams of condolence have been received at the Sensabaugh home. They were principally for Mrs. Holt.

MILLER-CROSS CO.

CORNER FOURTH AND AUSTIN

F. Sensabaugh, Holt's father-in-law, tonight. It was headed:

"My Dear Darling,"

"You are the only one I can and must trust and entrust with this news. I know you are strong in your faith in God and love for your fellow men, and do therefore approve of my action. The fact that it should strike our family instead of John Smith's may seem hard, but can't be helped. One hundred times I said, like Jonah, 'Lord, send somebody else,' but I got only one answer. Nobody else seems to be available. I have prayed and trembled and doubted and lain awake at night, and thought and thought, but there is no way out of it. The slaughter in Europe must be stopped. And America must stop sending ammunition. If it goes on, I cannot live for I am responsible insofar that I do not stop it, when I can. So I will try. First: R. Pearce of Washington. That is my appeal. It is a start and may do some good. Let us pray that the people may wake up to the crime they are committing by allowing the slaughter to go on. Second, the steamer leaving New York for Liverpool on July 3, should sink, God willing, on the 7th. I think it is the Philadelphia or Saxonia, but am not quite sure, as according to schedule these two left the third. (On the margin was written 'tear this off till after it happens.')

"Third: I need a powerful assistant and have chosen J. Pierpont Morgan of Glencove, Long Island. By the time you get this it will be all over. I shall either be dead or in prison, with the Morgan family in their residence in Glencove, while Mr. Morgan will go to all manufacturers of ammunitions and persuade them to stop sending them. If he does not, he must forfeit his family, and of course, my poor wife and babies also their husband and father."

"My dear, believe me, I have many proofs that God is guiding me in this work and that he has answered my prayer for guidance. I should not wonder if some people will say that I was mistaken, because the results for my family are so severe. But what about the hundreds of thousands of fathers and husbands who are forced to do the very thing I am attempting? Saving my country from moral ruin. The path of duty is hard, but it must be trod and to gain life, we must offer our life."

"If the rich of this country wish to get richer by the European horror, they must also be ready to participate in the horror."

"They say, if the Germans could buy here and ship safely, they would do so. Yes—but that is no excuse for our selling them any munitions, no more than the allies. We must stop it!"

"I asked the Blosers to deposit rent at First National bank. They owe $10.75, July, and $12.50, for August."

"This is my last letter before the Glencove affair. My heart is with you and my babies and all the family in Dallas. I am sorry if a great blow should fall on all of you, but hope that God will avert it. He knows best. I cannot do otherwise."

"I see that at 11:30 last night, I heard right. Let us pray that it was not in vain. Am so glad it cost no lives. Did not know anybody would be on the upper floors at night. "Well, good-bye, my sweet darling. Bring up our children in the love of God and man and be strong and kind. "Your affectionate FRANK."

Holt a Billiard Fiend.

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 7.—Frank Holt while at Oklahoma university had a hobby which brought him and a college companion to Oklahoma City regularly every Friday. He was a billiard fiend, according to a proprietor of a local billiard hall. Every Friday afternoon they came here and played billiards incessantly until midnight, he said. Early Saturday mornings, they again would go to the billiard parlor, get the same table, if possible, and there to remain for the entire day.

This program, it is said, was followed by Holt for three years.

Couldn't Furnish Recommendations.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 7.—The reason Frank Holt wasn't advanced to a professorship at Polytechnic college here, where he was an instructor and student in 1908-09, developed today when President Boaz announced Holt could not furnish sufficient recommendations and did not reveal enough of his past life to satisfy trustees and other faculty members. Holt was a tentative applicant for a chair. However, members of the faculty objected. Holt was able to furnish only one recommendation, that from an acquaintance in Mexico City. That didn't go beyond 1906. The fact, too, that a pistol was once discovered in Holt's room mitigated against him, said President Boaz.

History of Muentner Case.

Cambridge, Mass., July 7.—The dual personality of Erich Muentner, alias Frank Holt, was not betrayed when he was an instructor at Harvard university. The first evidence of a diseased mind was contained in a pamphlet which he is supposed to have written and mailed from New Orleans to President Eliot and members of the faculty after he had fled from Cambridge in the face of charges that he had murdered his wife with poison.

Considered by his intimates as eccentric, Muentner, nevertheless was regarded as a diligent student and courteous gentleman, who was not likely to do anything to attract particular attention. The issuance of the booklet created astonishment, as it was a bitter tirade against society, threatening revenge upon the "community" which he declared had unjustly accused him. The writer gave convincing proof of an unbalanced mind. Muentner came to Harvard in 1904 with a degree from the University of Chicago and a record of service as instructor in the University of Kansas. Entered at Harvard as a candidate for the advanced degree of doctor of philosophy, he received an appointment as instructor in the elementary German courses. He was accompanied here by his wife, formerly Leone Krembs of Chicago, and their 1-year-old daughter.

Second Child Born.

April 6, 1906, a second child was born. Mrs. Muentner, believing in mental healing, did not call in a physician until just before the birth of the infant and the physician withdrew from the case when he learned that his directions were not being followed. A mental healer and a nurse attended Mrs. Muentner.

At midnight on April 15 Muentner told the nurse to get some rest and said that he would stay with the patient. At 6 o'clock the morning following, he informed the nurse that Mrs. Muentner had died.

The physician whose advice had been disregarded refused to issue a death certificate and the medical examiner, believing that the death was due to an autopsy, sent the woman's stomach to the Harvard Medical School for analysis.

In the meantime Muentner urged that he be allowed to take the child to Chicago for burial and the medical examiner permitted him to do so and issued a certificate ascribing death to stomach trouble following child birth. Muentner did not return to Cambridge.

Within ten days the chemist reported the presence of poison in the digestive organs and the futile search for Muentner was begun. Soon afterward a grand jury returned an indictment, accusing the missing instructor of having poisoned his wife.

Two months after Muentner's disappearance his colleagues received copies of a pamphlet entitled "A Protest," which contained a discussion of the charges against him followed by a rambling analysis of existing social conditions and the treatment of those accused of crime, without proof. On the latter subject the writer said, in part:

"Take my case. Even without the process of law, the spirit of revenge and persecution of the law which our newspapers so brightly and painfully reflect, has branded me as a criminal. In the eyes of all who read the atrocious accounts in the papers, I am a brutal mur-derer, a thing to be despised or to be shuddered at, an outcast from society, an enemy of the community, a wild beast that must be hunted down and either be killed or caged up for the safety of the community."

"The lesson that you teach me I will execute, and it shall go hard, but I will better the instruction. Without knowing whether I was innocent or guilty, you have reviled me, you have cast me out. If I don't strain every nerve to get revenge, the bloodiest, the most brutal kind of revenge, let me never prove my innocence to you. My only witness is dead. Hence, if I could annihilate all of Chicago and Cambridge at one blow, that would be the thing to do. You wish to annihilate me. I must anticipate you."

Train Blown from Track.

St. Louis, July 7.—Four cars of Wabash passenger train No. 9, from St. Louis to Kansas City, were blown from the track by a tornado near Gilmore, Mo., this afternoon. According to information received here by General Manager Cotter of the Wabash, no one was hurt seriously enough to need medical attention.

Mr. Cotter tonight said the cars which left the track were blown clear off the right of way. The train crew then coupled up the five cars which were left on the track and proceeded toward Kansas City. The cars which were torn from the train by the wind were the mail, combination, dining and chair cars.

Sundry Jottings of a Day at the City Hall

Was After "Kidnapers."

It took threats of a dark cell, a bread and water diet and evident intention of carrying them out to stop the tirade of a Semitic resident of the east side against the police force at the city hall yesterday. Detective Hall was the recipient of the direct port of the abuse, but the gentleman's remarks included everything that toted a run and the city police badge.

Hall responded to a telephone call giving the information that a child had been standing on the sidewalk in front of the city hall yesterday. The officer called up the mother of the child and told her the story. He had just started to take the baby to its mother, when the father arrived on the scene, all wrought up. He accused the officer of kidnapping the child in broad daylight, and in addition denominated him as a "loafer."

Detective Hall laughed at the infuriated pater until his abuse became too pointed. The man subsided when he saw the calaboose door yawning, and was allowed to leave in peace, tugging the child away from the contamination of "kidnapers."

A Notable Capture.

General Pascual Orozco was captured by an intrepid band of Waco policemen yesterday as he peacefully snoozed on the banks of the Brazos. Officers Clay, Farquhar and Shepard composed the formidable party of attackers that surprised the general and hauled him to the city bastle, his one leg stumping merrily and his one eye glistening ferociously. There are some doubters who on account of this one-eye, one-leg business believe that "Peg" is not the Pascual Orozco of military fame. However that be, it doesn't detract from the glory of the courageous three who captured him, and it could be that the general lost the leg and eye in one of his recent battles, news of which has not reached Waco.

Curfew Law on Austin.

Chas. Carlton and George Barnard, former members of the force, and at present night watchmen in the residence district along upper Austin avenue, report that they have put a curfew law into effect in their district. Negroes and suspicious characters out late at night are required to give a good account of themselves. "You don't see the hoodlum coming out our way much since we put on the curfew, either," says "Uncle Buck."

Alabama Insurance Manager Acts After Seeing How Vitalitas Is Extracted.

"When I first saw how it was extracted from natural minerals I was impressed with Vitalitas," states Manager Jack Crenshaw of the Liability Insurance at Birmingham, Ala.

"I am a great believer in Nature and to substantiate my belief I am giving this statement to the public. I am glad to state what I know about Vitalitas. I have been troubled with chronic indigestion for more than five years; so bad at times I had to diet, in fact, I had eaten certain foods before taking Vitalitas. I have been benefited to the extent that I feel I am cured of chronic indigestion but am still continuing its use. I heartily recommend Vitalitas to all sufferers of indigestion and a run-down condition."

Mr. Crenshaw's observations will be read with much interest and thousands of people throughout the South will endorse what he says regarding Vitalitas. It is effective not only for indigestion and a run down condition, however, but for all generally of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood. It is nature's greatest tonic and corrective.

Believe a Plan to Ship Montenegrins Back is Prevented

Washington, July 7.—Although department of justice officials are confident they have nipped in the bud a plan to ship large numbers of Montenegrins back to their native country to join the colors, it was said tonight there was no present intention of preventing the departure of Montenegrins already induced to start for home.

Officials here were not surprised to learn that 145 recruits held up in Portland, Ore., had been allowed to proceed. It is said the efforts of the government are to be directed chiefly toward the conviction of charges of violating the neutrality laws of the three or four representatives of the Montenegrin government charge with inducing their countrymen to enlist and to return home.

It became known that B. Martino, vich, one of the Montenegrins arrested in Bisbee, Ariz., spent some time in Washington about a month ago and talked with Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, about the observance of American neutrality.

Embassy officials declared no consular agent or diplomatic officer of the British government had engaged in securing enlistments in this country.

TODAY'S BEAUTY HELPS

COMPLEXION BEAUTIFIER

Nothing is more repulsive than to see a woman with her face all daubed with powder in her desire to hide marks of age. Instead of using powder, which clogs and enlarges the pores, it is far better to use a good face lotion that will improve and permanently benefit the skin. By dissolving four ounces of spumax in one-half pint hot water you can make an inexpensive lotion that will do wonders as a skin whitener and complexion beautifier. It removes all shininess, sallowness and roughness, and gives the skin a smooth velvety tone, while it does not rub off easily like powder, nor does it show on the skin.

MAKES HAIR FLUFFY—By washing the hair with a teaspoonful of canthox dissolved in a cup of hot water, afterward rinsing thoroughly with clear water, one finds that it dries quickly and evenly, is unstreaked, bright, soft and very fluffy, so fluffy in fact, that it looks more abundant than it is and so soft that arranging it becomes a pleasure. This simple, inexpensive shampoo cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly of all dandruff and dirt, and leaves a clean, wholesome feeling. All scalp irritation will disappear, and the hair will be brighter and glossier than ever before.

CEMETERY BOARD MAKES A REQUEST

In another column of the Morning News today will be seen an address from the board of directors of Oakwood cemetery. This is addressed directly to lot owners in the cemetery, and it is urged that every man and woman who owns a lot read carefully what is said.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY HAS COUNTRY SUPPER

The Women's auxiliary, Columbus Street Baptist church, is taking a delightful outing this afternoon. This is a sunset supper out at Hedgerow, the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Buchanan. The hours are between 5 and 7 o'clock. The special hostesses are the A. B. Warner circle who invite all women of the congregation to join, each taking a box lunch. The men are honor guests.

LITTLE MISS LELA PARK IS SEVEN YEARS OLD

On Wednesday, there were dinner guests in the M. C. H. Park household, nine of them: nine little girls for a happy day. This was because the little daughter of the home, Lela Park, was celebrating her seventh birthday. Aside from the general good play time, there was the great excitement of cutting the cake, a birthday cake baked in a pan decorated from the great-grandmother, and a birthday cake cut with a knife descended from the great-grandmother. The little hostess will have many other happy birthdays, but none more notable than this.

MISS ELIZABETH FIELD HAS BRIDGE COURTESY

Into her cool home out at Highland Mrs. Charles Link was hostess to twelve guests during Wednesday morning. The diversion was bridge, and the cause for the pleasant game was courtesy to a visitor, Miss Elizabeth Field from Bruceville. With pretty appointments and pleasing lunch, an additional prize, a top score won by Mrs. Bernie Hill, a bottom score won by Mrs. William Mistrot and a consolation cut, made by Mrs. W. P. Killingsworth. Other than the game, the hostess gave hospitality to the Link and to meet Miss Field, the Misses Nancy Lacy and Cockrell of Little Rock, with the Mesdames W. N. Vivrett, W. B. Knight, M. R. Riddle, and D. B. Frank. Forman, W. D. Rondthaler and Frank Trau.

S. C. ROBERTSON CHAPTER ADJOURNS FOR SEASON

With Mrs. Adams hostess, the Sterling C. Robertson came to summer adjournment under very pleasing circumstances. Absences from the city as well as indisposition made the attendance smaller than usual. Several names were presented as probable additions to the chapter when it resumes in the fall. No special order of business was followed, the center of interest being in reading and discussion from the first few pages of the new Texas history of which Z. T. Fullmore of Austin is author. Mrs. Adams, comparatively recent, came to this part of the year and the atmosphere of stirring Texas history, over at Nacogdoches and the Old Stone Fort. She brought the afternoon to a social close with refreshments.

PICNIC IN HONOR OF MISS STEVIE BOYSEN

One of the very enjoyable outdoor affairs of the season was the picnic given Tuesday evening by Mrs. A. J. Eberhardt, in honor of Miss Boyesen of Brownwood. By 7:30 a jolly crowd had gathered at Cameron park and after every one was thoroughly acquainted all glided to the call of the bell, which announced the picnic supper. Games of numerous kinds were enjoyed, and songs by talented members of the crowd were sung, and altogether a very pleasant evening was spent.

Those present were Misses Stevie Boyesen, Brownwood, Elizabeth Gresham, Temple, Jeanette deAlma, San Antonio, Ara Cornell, Gladys Nichols, Maurine Nichols, Helen Willenham, Eunice Akin, Elizabeth Akin, Sadie Wenz, Dorothy Wenz, Ruth Hester, Alla and Mary Hester, Ester Stidman, Maurine Brown, Frances Blanchard and Messrs. Layton Little, Raymond Denton, Clarence Hester, Seth Mayfield, Ed Watpica, Robert Brown, Zeke Boone, Clarence Reese, Guy Naylor, Homer Martin, R. A. Miller, Porter, Price, Flour-narey and Stonehocker, with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gehring and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Eberhardt, chaperons.

SETTLEMENT BOARD HAS MONTHLY MEETING

On Wednesday morning the members of the Evangelical Settlement board held their monthly session. Matters of routine were conducted principally. Mrs. W. S. Woodson's resignation was accepted, since Mrs. Woodson has such exacting duties as president of the City Federation of Missionary societies. Mrs. J. T. Strain is acting secretary, the office being vacant by Mrs. Woodson's resignation. Mrs. Thomas Padgett has been elected new member of the board and will begin active service with the return from her summer trip. The new subject to engross attention from the board was the organization of the Camp Fire girls. The limit is twenty members; eleven have joined the Waco camp. Miss Pettit is in charge. She will direct according to the prescribed rules of conduct. The first outing was down at Waco Spring. The story was told of how this spring became an historic landmark for our city. The Camp Fire girls adopted the name, Waco camp. Their next outing will be the real camp out at the Fish Pond. A tennis court will soon be placed on the Settlement grounds. The boys' club is active. Fifty are enrolled in the kindergarten department, with average daily attendance of thirty-two. The members of the board were quite satisfied with the progress with all branches in the Settlement work.

ANOTHER QUERY COMES ON CORRECT SOCIAL FORM

The last among the appeals which have come to the Morning News in regard to what is correct in social form is this: "In attending a reception, if there are three hostesses and one honoree, how many cards do you leave?"

Wonder if any one ever thought of leaving four cards? Who could produce the adding machine to register the sum total if such were done? We hold that no card is left for an honoree at a reception. In the first place, the hostess should provide no card tray unless the idea of a calling acquaintance is implied in the invitation. If there is no card tray, naturally she is the cause for the reception, and there should be eliminated any thought of the calling card except for the notes of regret which come during the afternoon. The courtesy to the honoree is not the card but some after attention; perhaps flowers, if a long visit, a call; if special attention, a dinner or a luncheon; if a debutante she should be added to the guest's calling list and a prompt call be made; the same with a bride honoree. The leaving of the card suggests a call made; would the honoree so consider and at once begin the return of calls upon every guest? Not at all. As we take it, these three hostesses are receiving in honor of this honoree, presenting her, and no idea of previous or future calls is implied. The hostesses would like to know who has responded, so the tray might be provided. In case this is done, if regrets are sent, have such promptly on the tray during the receiving hours; if presence is given, lay one card on the tray, this courtesy for the woman in whose home the reception is held.

Should the guest feel indebted for her invitation to one of the hostesses, the recognition by call or future invitation should be made to this hostess in her private home. Just imagine! Three hostesses, each with three hundred guests. Four times three hundred is twelve hundred! Who wants to assort twelve hundred cards? Common sense ever, and this is the time when such should be exercised.

Society Notes

Can you tell how "A rolling stone gathers no moss" came to be one of our proverbs?

Wednesday was the first day of Mrs. Guy Witt as bride matron in her home, out on West Adams street. What is the next puncture in the calendar of holidays? It is way off, Halloween night.

Some one, evidently a lover of the sparkle of jewel, has defined friendship as a diamond in the ring of friendship.

The Joel Westbrook is leaving San Antonio at an early date for the remainder of the season among the Colorado resorts.

Really, it is not so bad, this remaining at home in summer. Middle July almost here, and we scarce realize the hot days have come.

Following her visit with Mrs. Gregg Waddill in Galveston, Mrs. Chester Story of Columbus street is continuing her absence for a visit in Beaumont.

Mrs. William Green is closing her North Fifth street within the next few days. She takes the trip with Mr. Green to New York City for several weeks.

Is it not strange how quickly innovations give rise to new phrases? Before our country roads are all ready, we are shifting from "motor trips" to "highway runs."

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Gurley are returned from their shorter wedding journey to the Texas coast. Middle July finds them off for the Pacific Slope and an extended absence.

Once a year society comes under the phrase, "A whole lot of nothing." Everybody is doing those small things which give pleasure, and yet these do not attain the dignity of prose notice.

Peach Melba.—Make a large bowlful of vanilla ice cream. Garnish with a cupful of fresh or canned peaches. Cap with a small pyramid of sweetened whipped cream. Pour over some peach sirup. Add some crystallized cherries if you wish.

Pear Condit.—Cook half cupful of washed rice in milk until rice is tender. Add two eggs, tablespoonful of sugar and a small amount of salt. Turn on to a serving dish and on it arrange halves of canned pears. Flavor with a small amount of preserved ginger.

Pineapple Salad.—Mix the juice of four lemons with two tablespoonfuls gelatin and half cupful sugar. Chop fine a cupful of fresh pineapple. Cool on ice. When cool add the pineapple to the lemon mixture. Serve with mayonnaise on crisp lettuce leaves.

Puff Paste Sandwiches.—Roll puff paste thin and cut in fancy shapes. Bake to a delicate brown. Add chopped almonds to rich strawberry preserves. Spread the mixture between two bits of pastry.

small table and eat church ice cream? We have not heard of one for many a day.

In a list of "sings" the other day, we noted, "What is the thing which foolish people do?" Who can answer? Why, boasting, of course. And why will the foolish people so indulge?

If you are annoyed by mosquitoes, remember that these never fly far from their birthplace. So look around for a tin can, a bit of broken crockery, a rain barrel, or some other nearby breeding place.

While one need not be absolutely silent in the moving picture hall, it is considered more polite not to be too noisy. Many a man, with their eyes, ears and mind, and to these distractions is annoying.

In the Better Husband contest, five points is lost if that husband utters one complaint about his wife. He loses points for staying at the lodge late. Wonder who the prize Waco husband would be?

Among recent events of social note, Mrs. J. M. Hale has become member of the W. S. Duke household, North Twelfth street. Her daughter, Mrs. E. D. Hightower of Georgia, who had been with her, returned home last night.

Relatives here, these being the time-honored Malone connection, are pleased with the tribute of Bishop Hoot to the late Walter Malone, writer, whom the bishop pronounces the man above men who has shed luster upon his home, Memphis, Tennessee.

The funny man has a new idea. He is now cracking the joke over the men who are begging for clothes because his wife gave all he had to the Belgians. Just to keep the record straight, was there never a man who did a foolish act? We have never heard of one.

Cards from Mr. and Mrs. William Dugan on Tuesday left them enjoying the exposition in San Francisco. They are due at home with the last of this week, and will be with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Goebel, West Morrow, until their cottage on Gorman is ready for occupancy.

The fashion writers are all congratulating the young girls of today in their privilege of wearing these becoming styles of the grandmothers. They do look cute, do they not? One feels that they are upon the verge of the quaint curtsy, such as bewitching Dolly Madison gave.

When you get into winter quarters this fall, if you do not do anything else, do remember to pull the davenport out of that corner and give it a cozy setting before the grate. Remember, every piece of furniture in a home is now placed just where it seems to be ready for service.

We all know that lemon is applied to remove stains from everything. It is claimed that lemon juice is the chief ingredient in furniture polish, and that, for satisfactory home make, this juice, diluted with one-third turpentine and applied with a soft rag, will make the same polish for which we pay 25c a bottle. It is worth the experiment.

If you are discussing plans for a new home, the architect would very much appreciate your not telling him about that brass knocker you must have on the front door before you tell him how large you wish the foundation, and where you would like that door inserted. Women are too prone to jump at details before essentials are ready.

On Saturday, the largest party yet left this city for the San Francisco-Yellowstone-Grand Canyon trip is leaving. In this will be, Misses Mercy and Helen Olenbush, Ruth Buchanan, Olive Habert, Mr. and Mrs. Melony of suburban Waco with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Black of Nacogdoches. In addition to the touring feature, the party spends two weeks in Kool Kolodrado.

Notice to Subscribers.
Delivery routes in the city of Waco are in the hands of independent carriers who buy their papers at wholesale prices. Subscriptions accounts are due them, not the Waco Morning News. They are under heavy bond, not only to give the best delivery service, but to pay for their papers each month. Their remuneration is the difference between the wholesale price and the retail price which they receive from subscribers. This margin of profit is such that they cannot afford to extend credit, except month by month. They are not required, and they are advised against, delivering the paper to anyone who does not pay in accordance with the above subscription terms. These carriers are all earnest, hard working men and they will appreciate any courtesy shown them.

The Morning News should be delivered throughout the city of Waco, Tex., m., and subscribers failing to receive the paper at that time will confer a favor by phoning the circulation department, both phones 1132, and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of the Morning News will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to the attention of the management.

WHERE REAL SYMPATHY LIES.

After the series of startling incidents, fraught with serious danger to life and property, in which Frank Holt, the demented college professor, figured, the country heaves a sigh of relief and hardly regrets that the poor man, who was not responsible for his actions, has terminated it all by ending his own life.

But just as strong as was the country's detestation of Holt's highhanded methods to right what his distorted mind conceived to be a wrong is the general sympathy for the grief-stricken wife and the little babies up at Dallas. Sorrow unspeakable has been heaped upon a worthy woman through no fault of her own and wrong though it may appear to us all, the little ones must carry through their lives a certain taint of their father's misdeeds and must ever face the possibility of his nervous and mental breakdown being repeated in their own cases.

We shall all hope for the best and those of us who pray shall breathe a prayer for the bereft wife and mother that she may retain her strength and composure under the awful strain that has been placed upon her. Hers was a loyal heart. She did not desert her husband when the crisis came even though that crisis could bring nothing but discredit and anguish to herself and family. And we are persuaded from the attitude she has manifested all along that she will refuse to believe that Holt was ever any one else than Holt, and that he was Erich Muentzer, the wife-murderer, and that she is still willing to live in ignorance of his life prior to 1906, which is as far back as he ever traced his history, it seems. For her sake we hope Holt was not Muentzer, even though the officers think they have established the fact that he was.

Mrs. Holt married in good faith. The man whom she chose for the father of her children was to all intents and purposes worthy of that confidence and trust. There were good traits in his character, we are sure, that will enable her to cherish his memory and when the little ones become old enough to be told about their father the mother will think only of those good things about him that endeared him to her and we trust that others who are thrown into contact with the children will deal equally gently with them. Whatever may have been Holt's faults during his lifetime, his last actions were those of an irresponsible man and they should not be held against his innocent wife and children.

Evelyn Thaw's refusal to testify against her husband in the effort to recommit him to Matteawan is about the best thing in her favor that we have noted at any time during her spectacular career.

Waco will give the public weighers of Texas a glad handshake today and full-weight, shaken-down and running-over measure of anything they may want.

With nineteen dead and 993 injured as a result of firearms and other manner of celebrations, it begins to appear that not all of the people of this country took our advice to be safe and sane in their celebration of the Glorious Fourth. In view of the fact, however, that all the deaths and accidents of a serious nature occurred in the North, Northwest and East, where our circulation is not as large as it is in the South, and where the people did not have an opportunity to read our warnings, we are not discouraged.

"PERNICIOUS POLITICAL ACTIVITY."

Texas has heard a good deal since the inauguration of the Ferguson administration anent the alleged "pernicious political activity" of various appointees under the state government, and which has been used as an excuse for terminating the official life of several men who had given the state loyal service but who did not happen to "whoop it up" for the present governor during his candidacy. Nor do we excuse "pernicious political activity" on the part of persons holding public office, though we hardly think the charge against certain men displaced by the present administration was sustained.

But the men have been misplaced, others have their jobs, and those incidents have passed into history. But there are some of the new appointees of Governor Ferguson who are now guilty of "pernicious political activity" and feeling sure that His Excellency, in his desire to promote the efficiency of the service which his various appointees are rendering, will see to it that such activity is promptly quelled, we are taking the opportunity to call his attention to the appearance of certain political letters appearing in plate form in certain weekly papers of late week, signed by Peter Radford. This is the same Peter Radford who used to sign his articles Ex-President of the Farmers Union of Texas, Lecturer and Organizer for the Farmers Educational and Co-operative Union of America, etc., etc. But he is not signing his name that way now. Whether he presumes that his reputation is sufficiently established now as to make the giving of his position unnecessary or he fears the giving of his position as a member of the state warehouse commission, in connection with his pleas for anti-prohibition, would create a bad taste in the mouth of some of the people who are paying taxes to make up his salary, we do not know, but if it is in bad taste for an instructor or employee associated with an educational, penal or eleemosynary institution of the state to engage in political discussions then we submit it is in poor taste for a member of the state warehouse commission to meddle in partisan politics and we think Governor Ferguson should call a halt on Peter Radford's fulminations.

Of course, no one believes Radford is writing the articles, just as none believes he wrote the stuff that went out last year over the signature of himself and W. D. Lewis. For proof of this assertion read the following extract from his latest boiler-plate contribution: "The agricultural and industrial development of this nation has suffered severely at the hands of the agitators who have sent torpedoes crashing into the port side of business and whose neglect of the interests of the farmer makes them little less than political criminals. We want no more of these evil spirits to predominate in government. Too long their hysterical cry has sent a shiver down the spinal column of industry. Too long have the political agitators capitalized strife, pillaged progress and murdered opportunity."

But the meat of the discussion is suggested in the following paragraph: "The recent experience of the English parliament which lashed itself into a fury over the liquor question has a lesson that it is well for the farmers of this nation to observe; for the subject in some form or other is constantly before the public for solution and oftentimes to the exclusion of more important problems of American plowmen."

But just to show that Radford is permitting his name to be used to articles which are quite reckless in their statements, witness the closing paragraph: "It is far more important in government to make it easier for those who toil to eat than to make it difficult for a few toppers to drink. There is not one person in one hundred of our rural population that ever touches liquor, but we all eat three times a day."

We venture the liquor interests are paying for that boiler-plate matter being written by a clever press agent and signed by Peter Radford, whose salary is being paid by the taxpayers of Texas, and we would like to see Governor Ferguson advise him to cut off his contributions or give up his job.

Among the things mentioned as indicating Secretary Robert Lansing's fitness for his job are that he smokes a briar pipe and enjoys reading the Bible.

It remains for Conwell, a Waco ball player, to achieve the distinction of being the first man in the Texas league to secure 100 hits this season. If Conwell can induce a few of his teammates to follow him in his hitting Waco will win the championship rag without difficulty.

Ex-Governor Colquitt says he will be the nominee for United States senator from Texas next year when the returns are in from the second primary. All that the resourceful ex-governor needs to prove his assertion is plenty of votes.

NO SCHOOL FUNDS; CONDITION SERIOUS

25,000 TEACHERS EMPLOYED BY THE STATE ARE INCONVENIENCED.

In Some Places Discount of 20 Per Cent is Asked on the Vouchers.

Austin, Tex., July 7.—The state's school fund is exhausted, necessitating the postponement of the July apportionment until next month. This brings about a serious situation, according to State Superintendent of Public Instruction W. F. Doughty, among the 25,000 school teachers employed by the state, and considerably interferes in winding up the year's work in the public schools. Doughty is due for his salary in an amount approximating $1,500,000 and these teachers, in order to secure money with which to pay the expenses at summer schools must discount their vouchers on the 1 to 3 per cent is charged in the sections largely populated and where financial facilities are good, but in the sparsely settled portions of the state, especially in border communities, a much higher discount is demanded. Supt. Doughty has reports in some instances as high as 20 per cent has been charged. "This works a great hardship on the teachers, and I greatly disapproved of Supt. Doughty today, 'but there is no remedy. The present situation is simply due to a large delinquent tax list, running, as I understand it, about 20 per cent and more, compared with 10 per cent in other years. This makes quite a difference. The failure to pay interest on land notes also has its effect on the school fund. The fund has been overdrawn about $5,000."

Pen. Probe Begins Today.

Austin, Tex., July 7.—Senator J. A. Harley today joined Senator J. H. Bailey of Dewitt county, of the senate's penitentiary investigating committee, who has been here since Monday. Senators Morrow and King are expected to arrive tomorrow when the committee will take oral testimony, having requested W. O. Murray of Floresville, former state senator and former chairman of the prison commission during a part of the Colfax administration, former Senator F. C. Welbert, L. W. Tittle, former member of the prison commission, and State Reclamation Engineer A. A. Stiles to appear and testify. Senator Murray reached here today and this afternoon was in conference with Senators Harley and Bailey.

According to Senator Harley and Bailey, it is probable that work of the committee will not be resumed until the prescribed time of sixty days. The committee, however, will work until the investigation is complete, even if the members are not entitled to pay after the sixty days expires. After the committee finishes its assignment, Governor Ferguson will, it is expected, announce the time when he will reconvene the legislature for the purpose of enacting legislative aid in placing the penitentiary system on a paying and businesslike plane. That there will be a special session next fall is certain. Even should the senate committee report that the present condition of the system is satisfactory, there is a back debt of $700,000 to be taken care of and this cannot be accomplished without an act of the legislature.

Railroad Commission Won't Resume.

Austin, Texas, July 7.—The railroad commission will not resume its hearings of application of Texas railroads for increase in freight rates until fall. When the commission adjourned the latter part of June it was stated that another hearing would probably be held about the middle of July. It now develops that a postponement is necessary on account of the great mass of data and testimony not having been compiled and that considerable time will be required to complete this work.

Chairman Mayfield said that the hearing would be resumed about Sept. 1. The commission has not yet decided on the exact date.

To Re-Inspect Militia.

Austin, Tex., July 7.—Dates for the re-inspection by Captain Collin H. Ball, U. S. A., inspector-instructor, Texas National Guard of the companies of infantry which failed at the first inspection to come up to the standard, were announced today by Adjutant General Hutchings and are as follows:

July 12, Company B, Second Infantry, San Antonio; July 14, Company K, Fourth Infantry, El Paso; July 17, Company G, Second Infantry, Temple; July 19, Company H, Second Infantry, Taylor. The fifth company being Company I, Fourth Infantry, Waxahachie, was mustered out of service at the request of the regimental commander.

Won't Grant Extradition.

San Antonio, Tex., July 7.—That Gov. Ferguson will refuse to grant the extradition of Huerta sought by General Villa, was the belief expressed this morning by Alfonso Madero, brother of the late President Madero of Mexico, following a long distance conversation with Attorney Lessing, representative of Villa who was in Austin. Mr. Lessing is due to reach San Antonio this evening for a conference with Mr. Madero, although the latter denied that it was concerning the extradition of Huerta.

J. K. Freeman Appointed.

Austin, Tex., July 7.—The governor today announced the appointment of J. K. Freeman of Cameron, to be the seventh member of the state mining board. This board is composed of seven members, three representing the mine operators, and three the miners, and the seventh is to act for both interests.

To Begin Anti-Trust Suits.

Austin, Tex., July 7.—Oral testimony will be taken by the attorney general's department on July 12, at Fort Worth, in the ouster and anti-trust suit of the state against the Texas Brewery company. This case has been set for July 28, before District Judge Pearson at Sulphur Springs.

Sewer Bond Issue Carries at West

West, Texas, July 7.—The election here yesterday to determine whether $12,000 in bonds be issued to build a sewer system for the town resulted in a vote 3 to 1 in favor of the bonds. Preliminary survey had been made by engineers and everything will be ready for work as soon as the bonds are issued and sold.

FALLS TO VOTE ON SCHOOL TAX RAISE

THE COMMISSIONERS' COURT ANNOUNCES JULY 28 FOR ELECTION.

Marlin Regulates Soliciting by Hotel Runners—Firemen Have Picnic.

Marlin, Tex., July 7.—The commissioners' court of Falls county has declared the 28th of the month as the day on which an election shall be held in the thirty-one school districts for the purpose of voting on raising the school tax from 15 per cent to 20 per cent on the $100 property valuation. The trustees agitating the question, who presented the petition requesting the calling of the election are J. L. Harlan, L. Kinard and R. L. Cobb, Central Academy on Blue Ridge at Alto Springs is the school that will be affected by the additional money derived from the additional tax.

W. T. Bagby in Address.
Marlin, Tex., July 7.—W. T. Bagby, member of the state legislature from Hallettsville, addressed a number of people in the interest of the anti, in an alleged attempt to answer the speech made by W. P. Lane Tuesday, on the Arlington hotel lawn. The people present were accommodated with seats improvised by the use of lumber supported by beer kegs.

Anti-Booster Ordinance.

Marlin, Tex., July 7.—The city council adopted an "anti-booster" ordinance this afternoon, which almost prohibits any solicitation whatever in this city by hotel drummers, baggagemen or other agents, except on one line at the railroad station. It also limits the number of runners any one hotel may employ to one, and requires that each runner be paid a salary in lieu of the present customary commission.

Firemen Have Picnic.

Marlin, Tex., July 7.—The volunteer fire department of Marlin enjoyed a big anniversary picnic and barbecue this afternoon on the I. & G. N. railroad, about two miles from the city. All the active firemen were there and most of the 200 honorary members joined in the enjoyment of the occasion.

Wacoans at Marlin.

Marlin, Tex., July 7.—The following people from Waco are registered at the hotels of this city: J. H. Luedde, Miss Luedde, A. J. Beulle, Miss Henman, Robert Chambers, Miss Mildred Lastinger, Eugene Dotson, J. L. Stewart and C. C. Irvine.

Henry and Brooks to Speak at Valley Mills Celebration

Valley Mills, Tex., July 7.—Valley Mills will pull off her annual celebration and home coming July 14, 15 and 16. Hon. R. L. Henry, candidate for United States senator, will address the crowd July 14 at 10 a. m.

Dr. S. P. Brooks, candidate for United States senator, also will speak, July 16 at 10 a. m. The Morgan land will furnish music all three days. There will be a fast game of ball at 4 o'clock each afternoon. Crawford vs. Valley Mills, there will also be one of the largest carnival companies in the state here during the three days, grounds will be electrically lighted.

Re-Inspection Temple Company.

Temple, Tex., July 7.—Through persistent efforts the men and officers of Company G, Second Infantry, Texas National Guards of this city, have succeeded in securing promise of re-inspection to be conducted Monday, July 12, by a regular United States army officer. The company at its last inspection failed to attain the standard set by the war department, was recommended mustered out of service. Another trial has been granted, however, and if the company emerges successfully, it will attend the state encampment to be conducted at Dallas during the present month.

Band Concerts for Temple.

Temple, Tex., July 7.—Summer band concerts, free to the public, are assured through the generosity of H. C. Poe, president of the Temple State bank, who has agreed to pay all the expenses connected with one of the concerts, which will be given weekly at the city park at night.

It is expected that enough organizations and institutions will follow the example to insure the success of the concert season. The city council declined to extend aid to the cause this year and the matter would have failed had not Mr. Poe come to the rescue.

Temple After Auto Tourists.

Temple, Tex., July 7.—The chamber of commerce has extended a cordial invitation to the Dallas Auto club to conduct its sociability run to Galveston for the cotton carnival the latter part of July by way of Temple and the Meridian highway, the latter having the reputation of providing the best roads in the state. Secretary John T. Land of the chamber of commerce has taken the matter up with the Dallas parties and expects an acceptance of the invitation.

Trial of McNeely Set.

Belton, Tex., July 7.—Much interest centers in the trial of C. S. McNeely, which has been set for July 19, in the Bell county district court. The defendant, a prominent farmer of Bell county, near Temple, will be tried for the killing of William Dickey, county commissioner of Bell county, also of Temple, which occurred in this city last April.

Since the killing McNeely has been an inmate of the county jail here, no application for bail having been made. The case promises to be a noted one in Bell county on account of the prominent persons and issues involved.

Stovall to Baylor College.

Belton, Tex., July 7.—B. A. Stovall, formerly with the Ouachita College of Arkadelphia, Ark., has been chosen secretary of Baylor college to fill a vacancy that has existed for several months and has assumed his new duties. He will be joined here by his family at an early date.

Welsbach Mantles Take Grand Prize

A dispatch from San Francisco announces the award of the grand prize—the highest honor within the gift of the exposition—to the Welsbach company of Gloucester, N. J., for their entire exhibit of gas mantles and lighting appliances. According to the schedule of prizes, the grand prize is awarded only to exhibits considered 100 points excellent—or perfect. Next in distinction is the medal of honor; then the gold medal, the silver medal and honorable mention.

The Welsbach display is in the form of a bungalow, divided into several rooms, in which the principles of correct artificial lighting are exemplified. All the features of the exhibit are covered by the award, including gas mantles of cotton, rane and artifice, manufacturing materials for mantles, reflex lights, inverted lamps for home use, inverted lamps for commercial use.

gas are lamps, the new C. E. Z. lights for home use, and a kerosene lamp using incandescent mantles. The perfecting of the last-named lamp, known as the Baynes Kerosene lamp, marks a new era in the lighting of places removed from the modern convenience of gas. Kerosene, the cheapest and most universally distributed lighting medium, will now give an incandescent light of the finest power and quality. It has taken fifteen years of experiment to develop the Baynes kerosene lamp to its present successful point, and it is the first which has ever received a grand prize.

The distinctive excellence of the new types of Welsbach lamps is due largely to the recently developed Welsbach kinetic principle of burner construction. The application of this principle permits the greatest adaptability and freedom of treatment, while securing a highly efficient light. The new Welsbach gas bowls show this principle applied to the popular semi-indirect illumination, and another development is the C. E. Z. light for home use. The small, simple, inexpensive light attaches to any upright fixture, and may be used with the ordinary gas globe. It is remarkable for its great volume of beautiful, eye-softening illumination.

The distinguished honor of the grand prize was awarded solely to the Welsbach company in the collective gas exhibit, including exhibitors from all over the world.

NEW MACHINE GUN COMPANY MUSTERED

ROLLS CONTAIN EIGHTY NAMES. FIRST FULL COMPANY IN STATE.

ARMY OFFICIAL HERE TODAY

Captain Ball Will Pass on Enlistment Papers—Extra Drill to Prepare for Encampment.

Eighty officers and men, composing the machine gun company of the Texas National Guard recruited in Waco during the past several weeks, were mustered into the service at the armory of Company K last night. Major W. E. Jackson of Hillsboro, battalion commander, Captain Ball of the United States army, detailed as instructor for the Texas militia, will inspect the new company and enlistment papers today. The company's equipment will consist of four regulation machine guns of the type used by the United States army. The Waco company is the only full machine gun company in the state. The company at Dallas is equipped with only two guns.

Commissioned officers of the company are Will Torrence, captain; Floyd Crow, first lieutenant; Jesse McLendon, second lieutenant; Captain Torrence last night announced the appointment of the following non-commissioned officers to act till further orders: First sergeant R. B. Ellis; first duty sergeant, W. M. Beaman; second duty sergeant, Hugh Wilson; third duty sergeant, H. M. Mason; fourth duty sergeant, E. E. Craven.

After the eighty men who signed enlistment papers had received physical examinations, which were given by Drs. Paul Murphy and J. H. Graves, the company ordered to fall in line to receive announcements. Speeches were made to the men by Captain Torrence and Captain P. A. Weathered of Company K, who stressed the importance of attendance on drill nights. Captain Torrence announced that the regular drill periods for the new company will be Thursday nights. In order to get in the amount of drill required before a company may attend the annual encampment of the Texas National Guard, three drill periods a week will be held for a time.

Mustered in of the company last night was the culmination of a long campaign to organize another militia company in Waco. Company K, the older organization, has had a number of interesting experiences, including service in the Brazos river floods, and on the Mexican border. The four machine guns and equipment for the new company will arrive within a few days, to enable the men to learn to operate them before the encampment begins.

Many From Waco Planning to Attend Riesel Show Today

The Riesel Stock Show takes place today and it seems certain that a large crowd from the surrounding country will attend that popular event. Wacans especially, have always shown a deep interest in the Riesel show, and indications are that a great many from here will run down to Riesel for the day.

One of the big features will be the baby show at 11 o'clock this morning. All kinds of races, contests and displays have been arranged for and an attractive list of prizes has been offered for various exhibits and various events. The big parade will be in charge of J. F. Burton and Sheriff S. S. Fleming, as marshals, and many unique features will be seen in the line of march.

Goldstein-Migel's Beauty Parlor is to Have New Manager

Mrs. C. R. Mays, a graduate of the Franklin Institute of Dermatology, has been secured by the Goldstein-Migel company as manager of the beauty parlor, and will assume charge today. Considerable new equipment has been purchased and put in place, making the beauty parlor one of the most complete in the Southwest. Mrs. Mays is an expert in dermatological matters and is an authority on treatment of the hair and skin. Assisting her will be a coterie of able attendants.

The Goldstein-Migel beauty parlor has become a very popular feature of the big department store, since it was started several years ago and those who have been patronizing it, or who intend to do so in the future, will be pleased to learn that such a capable manager as Mrs. Mays has been secured.

NICKEL.

Francis X. Bushman in "Thirty."

The regular three single-reel program offered every Thursday at the Nickel has been added to today, and "Thirty" with Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne as the bright stars is the addition which will undoubtedly please every patron of this more popular little picture house. "Thirty," Esanay's recent release, is a Victor Eubank drama and a bully good yarn, even if no real newspaper man will ever believe that the wonderful luck which falls to the star reporter in the photoplay has the slightest foundation in fact. It's a poor heart that won't rejoice over a bit of spirited romance—and "Thirty" is filled with it. Francis X. Bushman supplies the requisite amount of dash, nerve and physical perfection demanded of the hero, and Beverly Bayne looks and acts every penny of the several millions she is supposed to possess. Ellen March, several times a millionaire, has a deep-rooted hatred for the press and all that pertained to newspapers. So when a rumor of her engagement to Count Dangleoff reached the city room of the Clarion and the city editor sent Dick Thompson, star reporter and poker player, out on the story, he had his work cut out for him. He climbed the wall and entered the garden of Miss March's home only to be set upon and beaten by two giant guards. The guards led him into Ellen's presence, where Dick proceeds to fall in love with her. She told him that if he didn't keep her name out of the papers she would put him in jail. He, because he loved her, said he would, and started a rumor that anarchists were going to blow up old man Rockefeller, a neighbor of Ellen's. In the manufacture of his plot, he was shot as an anarchist and fell wounded into Ellen's arms. Ellen admits that she loves him, finds out that she owns the Clarion and makes Dick her husband and managing editor of the great newspaper.

Francis X. Bushman, in "Thirty," at the Nickel Today.

THE FLYING TWINS.

There is a sincerity in the visualization of "The Flying Twins," four-reel Mutual master picture of interesting personality and well chosen scenic effects, the attraction at the Hippodrome tomorrow and Saturday, which is rarely seen in productions of the kind and which deserves high commendation because it indicates a progressive tendency. It is simply the story of two attractive young girls who run away from home and enter upon a series of adventures while following the fortunes of a traveling circus. The girls are veritable twins, of personality most fascinating—their movements indicate that they have learned to think in unison, and their united individuality is of a sweet and wholesome kind. Around their adventures a story has been built.

The amount of genuine craftsmanship shown in handling a story of theme of purpose of sympathetic feeling, of soul, results in a much higher quality of production. Such stories will continue to be scarce and grow more so under present conditions. Such capable treatment as that given "The Flying Twins"—there is both beauty and consistency of interpretation—is of high value. There is a tremendous demand for this form of publication—the difficulty is to get hold of something worth publishing. That will come in time—it is bound to come—when professional authors who nearly always have a superabundance of material far beyond their literary requirements learn to frame their conceptions so that they can be economically and effectively prepared for screen representation, and when authorship is acknowledged and re-

David Powers, a lumber king, is a hard man. He is backed in his contempt for labor by his lawyer, Perry Travis. Both men love Powers' daughter with a love that amounts fairly to worship and Laura has promised to marry Travis.

Conditions become unbearable in Powers' plant. The workers decide to strike, and Laura's pleas for a settlement are of no avail. In a mob fight Laura is killed by her own father. The blame, however, falls on the head of an innocent workman and a strange entanglement of affairs ensues.

SEVEN-REEL PROGRAM.

Robert Edeson, considered the greatest exponent of the true western character of the legitimate stage, and William S. Hart, the truly greatest western character of the motion picture, are happily cast in one of the most remarkable photoplay presentations of the present year, a picture that has made motion picture history everywhere presented. Many columns of news editorials, speaking the thoughts of brainy editors, have been devoted to praises for the Mutual master picture, "On the Night Stage." It will be the attraction at the Rex theatre today only, in five parts and will be augmented by the addition of the third episode of "The Diamond from the Sky," which features Lottie Pickford and Irving Cummings.

This splendid program of seven reels will doubtless draw capacity houses to each exhibition.

Attractions for Friday at the Rex are the Famous Players' farce comedy, "Are You a Mason?" which brings forth the inimitable John Barrymore and a cast of splendid comedians, also a Broncho picture, "The Sea Ghost."

Special pictures for the children Saturday have been arranged. The Thomas H. Ince Mutual master picture, "Rumpelstiltskin," will give the little fellows something to marvel at and will be greatly appreciated by all adults. Mabel Normand, Roscoe Arbuckle (Patty) and other Keystone stars will also appear Saturday in "The Little School Teacher," a two-reel comedy.

Special summer tickets, entitling the holder to $1.30 in admissions, will be placed on sale at the Rex box office this morning. The tickets sell for 50c and are good any time until used and are transferable. A saving of 30c is effected by purchasing a summer ticket said saving being the equal to one week's free picture entertainment.

GET TO EDDIE DONALDS IN THE FIFTH INNING FOR THREE RUNS.

PITCHER BONO IS EFFECTIVE

Has Been Sick All Season, But Shows Class in the Pinches—Hits Are Scattered.

Dallas, July 7.—Dallas bunched hits on Donalds today and won an errorless game from Waco 4 to 1. A double and three singles in the fifth gave the locals three scores and the game. Bono, who has been sick all season, was effective in the pinches. Brownlow fielded sensationally, accepting 12 chances at short. The score:

SPORTING COMMENT

One consolation, the bunch is not booting 'em.
Hits even, nine apiece. But it was that old fifth inning bunting stuff that beat the Hardyties.
They were all in the game except the extra pitchers. Reilly and Malmquist batted as pinch hitters.
"Brownlow fielded sensationally," says the report. The Giant shortstop usually looks fair to middlin' against Waco.

Galveston lost again yesterday and therefore failed to take advantage of Waco's defeat. The Pirates are home, however, for six games commencing today.

Waco plays Port Worth and Shreveport each a series and then returns to Katy park, opening a long home series with Dallas as the first victim on Wednesday, July 14.

This Toodles—the pesky fellow—while not good enough for a class higher league, has come along and tear hole into Waco club any old time he so decides. His three hits, one a double, and two runs in four times are evidently went a long way in the Dallas win.

One Bono—either of the family of Heado Public, there's a doubt—was very effective for the Giants. If his family name is Heado he belied the cognomen, for while he gave three walks he kept the Naves from threatening and got along well—far any pitcher than can allow the skippers nine hits and hold 'em to one run in using something more effective than empty cranium.

Port Worth and San Antonio are in a condition of mutual mistrust. Port Worth hit Jack Frost from New Orleans, after, according to Broncho claims, he was promised to Cap Ledy. Frost went well, however, after the tentative deal with Ledy was made, and the Pelicans kept him. Later they turned him over for a consideration to the others in re-tribution to this claim by the Broncs. Port Worth still claims it should have Tulos—so there you are.

Score Six Consecutive Wins in Series, Leonard Returns to Old Form.

Boston, July 7.—Only a fraction of a game separates Boston from Chicago in the race for the leadership in the American league as a result of the Red Sox' double win over Washington today, their third consecutive victory. Leonard's return to form was indicated by his performance in holding Washington to three hits in the second game today. The score:

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York, July 7.—There was a sharp break in the cotton market today, with October contracts selling at a discount of $1 per bale below the closing prices of yesterday and back to the lowest price reached on the big break of last May. The close was steady at a net decline of 14 to 22 points.

Early fluctuations were rather nervous and irregular. Liverpool was lower than due, while the weather map showed clearing conditions in the south, and the forecasts were for generally clear weather tonight and tomorrow which were considered favorable after the recent rains.

The market here opened at a decline of 1 to 2 points in consequence, and active months sold some 4 to 6 points net lower. Bales of 1 or 4 points, however, were barely maintained and when it was seen that the weekly weather report was failing to increase any fresh buying power, offerings became more active and general. Stop orders were uncovered in considerable volume as prices worked lower. Covering by recent sellers appeared to be about the only support on the break of 16 to 22 points from last night's closing figures. Closing prices were within a point or two of the previous day's except October and December, which rallied 4 or 5 points on ordering.

Exports for the day were 105,000 bales, making $1,625,555 so far this season. Port receipts 6665. United States port stocks 827,077.

New Orleans.

New Orleans, July 7.—The cotton market started today's session at a decline and closed steady at a net loss of 17 to 19 points, which was within a point of the lowest of the day. Better weather over the belt, more favorable weekly crop reports than expected and poor weather started the downward trend in prices but the main depressing influence of the day was the report that the steamship Adriatic had been sunk. This caused heavy selling for both accounts, under which prices broke sharply to new low levels for the present downward movement of the market.

In the early trading prices lost about 5 points on moderate selling, stimulated by poor weather. The weather map was dry and the detailed weather reports noted rain at only nine stations in the entire belt. This created the impression that the crop situation had taken a turn for the better.

The weekly weather reports increased selling somewhat, but at noon the market was only about 6 points down. In the early afternoon trading was more active than at any other period of the day. Much long cotton was thrown overboard and offerings of short cotton were liberal.

SPOTS.

Galveston, July 7.—Spot, middling 9c; receipts 2500; sales 1570; stock 151,562.

Liverpool.

Liverpool, July 7.—Cotton spot easier. Good middling 5.57; middling 5.57; low middling 5.48; sales 10,000; speculation and export 1000; receipts 1100.

January	6.42@6.44
February	6.46@6.49

DRY GOODS

New York, July 2.—Cotton goods market was steady but inactive. Burlaps were quiet and firm. Worsted yarns moved more freely at low prices.

WHEAT

Chicago, July 7.—Unwelcome rains over the harvest fields of the west gave the wheat market today a lively upward swing. Despite considerable reaction, values held in stubborn fashion to some extent the advance. The close was steady, 1 1/2@2 1/4c above last night. Corn wound up with a gain of 3/4@1 1/2c and oats of 1/2@3/4c. Provisions finished at 22 1/2@42 1/2c net decline.

Rushes to buy wheat were of such violence at the start that in some cases the July contract, although a jump of 1 cent, at that point, however, firms identified with the southwestern trade sold freely and the extreme bulls were crowded back. Reports of clearing weather in Kansas and Missouri prevented any renewed ascent of prices, but failed otherwise to make much impression. According to high authority, the entire winter crop belt was suffering from the delay to the movement of new wheat, and also because of the impaired quality of much of the grain.

Corn was firm nearly the whole session, owing to the undesirable cold wet weather.

Oats, like wheat, rose on account of the fact that the July delivery would be a point or two of the lower than the crop problem.

Unusually persistent liquidating sales by holders brought about a notable break in pork, lard and ribs. At one time pork was down $1.17 1/2 a barrel compared with last night. In this connection, there were reports at hand which showed that hog slaughtering of late has been much heavier than a year ago.

SENATORSHIP IS IN COLQUITT'S HANDS

ALL THAT'S NEEDED NOW IS CASTING AND COUNTING THE VOTES, HE SAYS.

PROHIBITION AND COTTON

These Will Be the Dominant Issues in Race to Determine Culbertson's
Successor, Colquitt Declares.

"About the most interesting thing that I know just now is that I am going to be nominated for United States senator from Texas next year," declared former Governor O. B. Colquitt, who spent the day here yesterday resting up at the State House between speaking engagements.

"There are lots of candidates in the race," Mr. Colquitt continued, "but that is not bothering me. The law provides for a majority nomination and I will be one of the two who will run over in the second primary."

"Who will be the other one?" he was asked.
"Well, I am not prepared to say yet, for not all of the entries are in, perhaps, but you can say that it will be some advocate of national prohibition.
The question of national prohibition
will cut a large figure in the race, you know, and as I am opposed to that plan myself, my final opponent will naturally be an advocate of it."

Prohibition Will Loom Large.

Prohibition will not be the only big question in the race, however, Mr.
Colquitt ventured, and while he did not say so in so many words, he indicated that some federal question relating to relief for the cotton farmers of the South would loom next largest in the determination of the issues in the senatorial contest. "We are able to manufacture powder and arms and high explosives and things like that and get them to the European powers that we want them, but we have not been able to stop the interference with the shipment of our cotton, which is infinitely more important to the people of this country. My record is pretty clear on helping the cotton farmer of the South
who is really the basis of all our prosperity, that of the banker, the merchant, the newspaper man and everybody else. My messages to the legislature from time to time in behalf of warehouse measures, the enactment of warehouse legislation during my administration, show where I have stood

How Thin People Can Put on Flesh

A NEW DISCOVERY.

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal
through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work
and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.
Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Omit the flesh cream rub-ons. Cut out everything but the meats you are eating now and eat with every one of those single Sargol tablets.
In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy,
"stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood, so it is easily assimilated. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of six of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come in tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and Powers-Kelly Drug Co.
and all other druggists in Waco and vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.

on this proposition and I think time
has vindicated my position abundantly.
The people must come to warehouses
and I hope the farmers,
merchants and business organizations
will co-operate to the end that adequate warehouses are established, so the farmers can store and insure their cotton without loss and deterioration,
and then sell it off as the demand justifies and not have to sacrifice it, as was the case last year. I hear that your business organizations are going to cooperate to that end here, and I think that an excellent move.

Struggle for Warehouses.

"You know I was in favor of that constitutional amendment which sought to confer upon cities and towns
the power to erect public warehouses
in this state but that amendment failed to be adopted, due to the fact that it was linked up with other irrelevant matters. But I still believe it would be an excellent idea for towns in this state to erect municipal warehouses for the farmers free of charge, the city to get its return in the fact that cotton from many sections would be stored there and when the cotton was sold the farmers would spend considerable of their money there. Waco is located in a fine territory and I believe a $50,- 000 permanent warehouse built from the proceeds of a public bond issue
would be the greatest asset that Waco could possibly procure just now, and it could be built under the charter provision that makes possible a market
house."

Governor Colquitt came in from Millerville, where he spoke at Burlington, Tuesday morning, and at Millerville today to address a Woodmen picnic and returning here tonight, will leave for Kansas, where he speaks Friday. He said he had engagements to address a number of picnics during the summer and while he has not formally opened his campaign for the state yet, he said he will not do so until next spring—he candidly admitted that he was passing up no chances to advance his candidacy in the trips and speeches he is making over the state, and he indicated he was pleased with the manner in which he was being received.

A number of his old friends called on him while he was here yesterday.

E. A. Harrell leaves on the Katy
Limited today for Chicago to attend
the convention of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees
as a delegate from the local organization. Dates for the convention are July 12 to 17. Before returning, Mr.
Harrell will spend some time in St.

afternoon, and north Texas delegates
will board the same train at Dallas.
There are ten delegates from Texas.

Chamber Commerce Board Meets Today

The board of directors of the chamber of commerce will meet at 10 o'clock
this morning in a special session growing out of the meeting of the executive session yesterday morning. A number of important matters are to be considered, the executive committee yesterday deciding that the attention of the board was required. The warehouse movement of the Texas Bankers'
association will be among the matters considered, and a committee will be appointed to work with the teams from the Young Men's Business League to raise money for entertaining the Sheriffs' convention which meets here next week. The full membership of the executive committee was present at the meeting yesterday morning, including Harry M. Baine, president; L. Migel, treasurer; W. G. Lacy and J. M. Penland, vice presidents; E. W. Marshall and J. J. Powers, ex-presidents, and
T. P. Duncan, a director.

Bids Wanted.
Sealed bids for relaying the concrete floors in corridors of the high school building—approximately 4500
square feet—will be received by B. B.
Cobb, secretary school board, until 3 p. m., July 9, 1915. Specifications may be had at the office of the superintendent of schools. The school board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

PUT CEMETERY BACK INTO CITY POLITICS

THAT WOULD BE THE RESULT OF ABOLISHING OAKWOOD AS-SOCIATION, IS DECLARED.

PRESERVE ENDOWMENT FUND

$25,000 Already Laid Aside Would Be Wasted Under Political Management, Directors Declare.

Passage of the ordinance introduced at last Friday's meeting of the city commission, seeking to permit the expenditure of part of the permanent fund of Oakwood cemetery in the upkeep of the cemetery, would result in the nullification of the Oakwood Cemetery association and placing the control of the cemetery back in city politics where it existed prior to 1898, according to a statement issued yesterday by the directors and advisory committee of the association. The association, which has assets of a permanent fund that now exceeds $25,000, protests against any such action, and the directors call upon all who are interested in the proposed preservation of Oakwood cemetery to express their disapproval of the proposed ordinance to members of the city commission.

The statement issued by the directors of the association follows:
Waco, Tex., July 7, 1915.

To the lot owners and others interested in Oakwood Cemetery:

An effort is being made at this time
to pass an ordinance through the city commission to divest the Ladies' Oakwood Cemetery association of the control and management of Oakwood cemetery, and to return such management, with all the funds that have been accumulated, back into the control of the city.

At the meeting of the city commission last Friday an ordinance to repeal the one which vests the control of Oakwood cemetery in the ladies' association was introduced, and a motion
made by one commissioner to pass it at once under suspended rules. This ordinance was introduced without notice to any of the officers or directors of the Oakwood association, and without consulting with them. When questions were asked by one of the commissioners, the mayor (according to the report of the Waco Morning News of July 3) replied that he was doing this for the purpose of removing the provision of the old ordinance which forbids the spending of the permanent fund, and to aid the cemetery board in a dilemma. This statement is so directly contrary to the real effect of the ordinance proposed, and which the commission has already passed to its second reading, that we feel we should explain to the lot owners and other citizens interested just what the situation is.

New Ordinance Would Kill Association
As a matter of fact, the ordinance which is being voted on, when finally passed, will not only not enlarge the powers of the present association, but will absolutely repeal their authority and dispossess them of their services, and the control of the cemetery and its funds will revert to the city, where it was before 1898. The only authority the Oakwood association has is that granted to it by an ordinance passed by the terms of which the Oakwood cemetery association is vested with the control and management of the cemetery and its funds. The ordinance now being voted on would take away the control of the cemetery from the association and place it in the hands of many good citizens of Waco to take the cemetery out of the active control of the city council, where its management had been so unfortunate and so unsatisfactory, and place it where it would receive the care and attention of the ladies of Waco, many of whom had already buried their dead in Oakwood.

They have held in since that time.
When this ordinance is repealed—at the present ordinance proposes to do the Oakwood Cemetery association will have no authority at all, and the cemetery and its funds will pass back to the control of the city.

How the Funds Are Handled.

In view of what has been said in the city commission meeting to which the present ordinance is to be taken further explanation as to the funds of the cemetery:
The ordinance vesting control of the cemetery in the Oakwood association provides that the funds shall be put into what is called a "permanent or endowment fund" and that such fund should be checked out by the officers of the company only to be loaned at interest, or to be re-invested in other lands, but the income of the fund may be used for maintenance. This is the plain provision of the ordinance, and this provision the association has always observed. The result has been that more than $25,000 has accumulated to the account of this fund, and is invested in safe securities, which bring in an annual interest, which interest is expended in up-keep; in addition to this, about $6,000 has been invested in additional lands. It has always been the hope of the association

that this fund will ultimately increase to such proportions that the income from it alone will be sufficient to maintain the cemetery. It is a trust fund for the benefit of the lot owners in Oakwood, and it has been carefully preserved as such by the officers of this association. It has been invested as wisely as your directors knew how to invest it, and the income from it has been employed in the cemetery.
The present association has had no authority to spend it, and furthermore it is not the purpose of the proposed ordinance to give the association the authority to spend it. The ordinance now proposed, when passed, will not enlarge the powers of the association
as to this fund—on the contrary, it will entirely repeal all authority of the association and the funds and the control of the cemetery will pass back to the city commission. This fund has been accumulated under the management of the Oakwood association, who have had no authority to spend or dispose of it. Now that authority to spend it is about to be given, the city commission is proposing to take the control and disposition of it away from the association that accumulated it and again assume management. We do not think this is right to the lot owners in Oakwood or to the citizens.

It is for these reasons that we make public this statement, so that you may fully understand the situation. If you are a lot owner in Oakwood or interested in its affairs we ask that you concern yourself to the extent of speaking to some member of the city commission, and expressing to him
your opinion about it, whatever it may be. We see no reason why this proposed legislation should be hurried through the commission without giving
those who are the most concerned in it
time and opportunity to express their views in regard to it.

Very respectfully,
OAKWOOD CEMETERY ASS'N.

OUR POLICY "THE PUBLIC BE PLEASED"

Sam Freund's New Store Will be Opened Today

The new store of Sam Freund & Co. in the new Dennis building, Sixth and Austin, will be opened for business at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The formal opening of the store will take place Saturday afternoon from 6:30 to 10, when Mr. Freund will be host to all visitors. Souvenirs for ladies and gentlemen will be distributed.

In addition to cigars, tobaccos, and smokers' articles, the new Freund store
contains one of the handsomest soda fountains in the city. The interior woodwork of the store is of colonial walnut, natural finish and inlaid with pearl. The fountain is of marble and onyx, as are the baseboards and trimmings of the show cases. Equipment for keeping cigars and tobaccos in the proper condition is unexcelled. The fixtures were made in Waco by the Mailander company. A department for repairing pipes is contained in the new store.

Mr. Freund's wholesale business will be conducted from the new building,
the store in the Metropole building on South Fourth street being maintained
as one of the growing chain of retail stores operated in Waco by this firm.
The rear portion of the new store, with a balcony, will be used by the wholesale force.
